Dear Innodata Hiring Team,

I'm writing regarding the Video Editor (Production Focus) contract role. I've spent the last 15 years producing exactly the kind of work this position calls for: product narratives, executive interviews, subject matter expert content, and platform-optimized video for YouTube and social distribution.

At Signal Group DC, I spent nearly a decade managing video projects for federal agencies and Fortune 500 clients, turning complex subject matter into clear, compelling content on tight deadlines. I've produced work for Disney, Boeing, Raytheon, and New Balance, and I'm comfortable translating technical B2B concepts into visual storytelling that actually holds attention.

What sets me apart is that I also build the systems that make production faster. I use AI-assisted tools for concepting, storyboarding, and asset creation. I automate repetitive post-production tasks with scripting and API integrations. When you need 30-second product videos, 90-second explainers, and YouTube content on a fast turnaround, having an editor who can also optimize the workflow is a real advantage.

I'm proficient in Premiere Pro, After Effects, DaVinci Resolve, and the full Adobe Creative Suite. I deliver broadcast-quality work and I'm experienced with Frame.io review workflows. I'm based in Michigan, fully remote-capable, and available to start immediately.

Best,

Jeffery Kerr
