SUMMARY

Video producer and editor heavily exploring the intersection of AI-generated content and traditional post-production. For the past year I've been experimenting deep in generative video and image tools, using Veo, Sora, Kling, and Flux to concept and create assets that I then refine and finish in Premiere Pro and After Effects. I also build internal automation systems, scripting pipelines, and basic API workflows to try and accelerate AI-assisted production speeds. 15+ years of broadcast, corporate, and digital video production underneath it all. Available immediately.
